

A cry for help amid the pandemic

Some trees are just too large to cut down by yourself. Since the start of the COVID-19 pandemic we've seen a disturbing rise in domestic abuse and family turmoil. Deacon Steven Defer says this is a time in our lives when we need to speak faithfully, as brothers, sisters and friends, to those we love in order to spare them the chaos of their own stress.