

Alpha & Omega: Sounds of Christmas at St. Joseph's Basilica

With tragically little singing happening this Christmas, this debut disc – Alpha & Omega – is exactly what we all need after this extraordinary year. Listen to the Schola Cantorum of St Joseph's Basilica, under the music direction of Roderick Bryce.

What better way to help to get is in the Christmas spirit! You may want to purchase their recording for yourself or for others. This sacred music is a reminder of the hope that Christmas represents.
